Introduction

Here, we want to improve the user interface compared to the current one. While there are some excellent websites, the user experience on them is poor due to the UI that has been used.

Both the users and the server providers should avoid this. HCI illustrates the relationship between the computer and its user. The user interfaces (UIs) used in this interaction should be intuitive.

We have selected the website "Riyasewana" for our project because it allows users to post items for sale, buy them, and trade services. There are numerous errors throughout the website, and the user interfaces are completely outdated. We were able to gather all the necessary information from the relevant parties, and our goal is to build a website that is more user-friendly and effective so that users can navigate it without any issues.

Methodology

To determine the viability of the riyasewana.com website, we conducted user research. We conducted that study using an online user interview. We asked all the questions about which we hoped to receive feedback during that interview, and we received sufficient answers.

Our interviews were conducted through Zoom meetings because of the pandemic situation in the nation. We chose university students and teachers to interview the marketing manager. We conducted structured interviews and received prewritten questions. Selected users who used the riyasewana.com website as customers left negative reviews. We asked them to perform tasks like place orders, add contacts, create accounts, and update contact information.

They described to us every vulnerability they ran into while carrying out their duties, and together we determined that the current site needed to be further enhanced by the addition of new features and functionalities. This is how we successfully conducted our user research.

❖ Future Work

Different adjustments, tests, and experiments were permitted for the future due to the lack of time. Future research may involve a deeper examination of particular mechanisms, fresh recommendations for experimenting with different approaches, or simply curiosity. After finishing the website design, we spoke with the client about the project's challenges. It has to be front end coding. for this group participant. Additionally, we are eager to select a back-end language and framework. We intend to test once the coding has been completed. After the test, we intend to deliver the finished project to the client.
